

Geosystems Hellas participated in EMEA Authorized Reseller Meeting 2024

Geosystems Hellas participated in the EMEA Authorized Reseller Meeting 2024, which took place at the Divani Apollon Palace & Thalasso Hotel in Athens, Greece on the 29th of February and 1st of March and organized by Hexagon Safety, Infrastructure & Geospatial!

Our team from Geosystems Hellas delved into insightful discussions, explored new strategies, and strengthened partnerships to drive into success within the geospatial solutions landscape.

On the 1st day, Christos Kontopoulos CTO of Geosystems Hellas, presented "Cultural Heritage Sites Monitoring with Remote Sensing Techniques Using Hexagon Solutions." Attendees were captivated by the innovative approaches showcased, highlighting Hexagon's role in revolutionizing Cultural Heritage preservation through advanced remote sensing technologies.

On the 2nd day, Betty Charalampopoulou, CEO of Geosystems Hellas, presented the "Geosystems Hellas S.A. Reseller: The Hellenic Military Geographical Service (HMGS) Success Story".

Throughout both days, our team was dedicated to showcase our commitment on delivering cutting-edge technologies and expertise to meet the evolving needs of our clients. GSH team seized the opportunity to collaborate, learn, and showcase the latest advancements in geospatial technology, reinforcing our position as an official authorized reseller of Hexagon solutions.

Stay tuned for more updates and events from Geosystems Hellas!
